Nancy Wright

Records Clerk

Business License/Building Permit Technician

Nancy Wright has been providing exceptional public service to Westminster businesses and residents for 33 years. As the Building Permit and Business License Technician, she greets the public that walk in to the City Hall with a big smile and provides answers to everyone's questions. Many residents, contractors and their kids know her and ask for her if she is not at the counter to welcome them. They know she loves her work; she is the first person in, in the morning and the last person out the door in the evening. City Hall Lobby shines with her positive attitude and caring passion.

Nancy's knowledge from years of working with businesses and developers provides a valuable resource to the community. She uses her experience to help everyone find answers in a shortest amount of time. Nancy continuously receives excellent marks and positive comments from customers, such as comments by Darnell Walker, General Manager of B/E Aerospace Inc, who wrote to Nancy, "I would like to personally thank you and your colleagues for assisting our company during our move to Westminster. You guys really demonstrated professional courteous help as we worked through the permitting process. Our corporation owns many businesses in various parts of the US and I must say we have not seen governmental agencies that exhibited the type of patience your office showed during the process."

Nancy is an asset to the City and a worthy recipient of the Public Service Award.
